DEALERS AT EDMONTON STOCKYARDS RESENT ATTACKS OF LEGISLATORS

HUGO STINNES AND OTHERS TO GET FINES OR IMPRISONMENT

Decree Is Issued by French Commander, General Degoutte

HAVE REFUSED TO PAY IMPOSED TAXES

Large Number of Motor Cars Requisitioned by French Forces

DUESSELDORF, Feb. 28.—By a decree issued by General Degoutte today, Hugo Stinnes and other mine owners and directors are liable to trial by court-martial, with possible imprisonment and heavy fines to recover taxes on coal production, or if they oppose the French and Belgian efforts to wrest from them shipments of fuel on account of reparations.

The order, which becomes effective immediately, is directed against eventualities in the struggle and also calls for the seizure of coal at the pit-head in cases where the Germans refuse to pay the taxes, and gives the French and Belgian authorities the power to export licenses to any owners failing to comply with their demands.

The system of tax collections or assessments on coal is virtually the same as that in France, to the extent that owners are supposed to pay an internal tax of 10 cent francs per ton on the coal produced.

Since the occupation began, the Germans have been required to pay the tax. The French mining officials will tax the owners a tonnage tax of 10 francs per ton on production. Should they refuse to comply with these demands the owners may be arrested. French authorities also subject to heavy fines in France.

In order to avoid difficulties with neutral countries the forty per cent tax will be imposed on ships to Holland or Switzerland.

The decree, which came by the French reached a stage of great activity today, the total taken before the end of the month, except for exports for every car only grants permission to the French to tax the occupied territory. All cars entering the Rura from non-occupied areas will be taxed.

Cars are being offered for sale at the very lowest prices, and the offer is often overwhelmed with requests that they use the cars of the Germans, so as to ensure their safety.

Women's Meetings

Westminster W.A.
Westminster W. A. will meet at 3 o'clock on Friday. Mrs. Scott

The Bulletin reserves its omission to publish that the Westward Hotel will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the eve, on Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

All Saints W.A.

All Saints W. A. will hold its monthly business meeting on Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

Refreshments were afterwards served to those taking part in the program. Miss Stevens, Mrs. James Whisman, Mrs. W. Diamond, Mrs. H. Crossland, Mrs. J. Craig, Mrs. McMillan, and Mrs. McLean.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by the members and friends of the Hadlock society, in their hall Wednesday evening, the money contributed to the general fund.

Entertainments were afterwards given to those taking part in the program. Miss Stevens, Mrs. James Whisman, Mrs. W. Diamond, Mrs. H. Crossland, Mrs. J. Craig, Mrs. McMillan, and Mrs. McLean.

A proposed slight ride, arranged by grades 7, 8, 9 and 10 of the Wye High School, was given up after having failed to materialize on account of the warm weather and rain. The girls, however, were soon repaid in the hospitable home of Miss Chapman, where the little girls passed in games, and where refreshments were served. Miss Chapman, Miss Cain and Miss Bay accompanied the party, thirty-five in number.

Piled to the door and with a number of them still seeking room, the concert given by the Student Moon dance circle in the church on Tuesday evening was a resounding success. A program full of good things rewarded — audience, performers and spectators.

Entertainments were the delightful orchestral music of Mr. Herb Pugh, also twelve soloists, each with Master John Hale at the piano. Mrs. Mary Smith, who on Tuesday evenings always popular, made a big hit, her readings numbering five sets. The discussions were on the various activities of the club, the candlelight being perfectly decorative. Refreshments and several matters of interest were discussed.

For the second time in a month, Edmonton's queen arraigned herself in the hall of the council meeting room down to Winnipeg to meet.

SIXTY-ONE HUSKIES
FROM LE PAS PASSED
THROUGH YESTERDAY

Sixty-one trail dogs who took part in the Far Dog derby passed through the city yesterday morning en route to Banff where they will be put up for the race day rate. The various drivers, white and Indian, rode in a special car which was followed by a special car with an attendant on the trail. The dogs were put to work one another up as is their playful custom.

The Indian mushers are making their firm railway journey. The dogs are in excellent condition, very much at first, and would have preferred the less side of a sledge than a sled. There are no less than three dogs to each sled, the others being Earl Morris, MacLean, MacLean, Jack Hayes, Jack Bacon, and the Association. Dr. Groat, R. H. Hague and B. Snydal.

Montgomery, Ont.—Poor Dr. Pierces medicines have been used in canines we used in our family at home and have found them to be most results. The Golden Medical Discovery was used as a tonic and stimulant, and it proved excellent in cases of intestinal trouble, and the Favorite Prescription to build me up when I was not well. It is a safe medicine and beneficial in recommending Dr. Pierces medicines knowing them to be the best for canines.

With these famous medicines you will find your dog's health in its best condition. Write to Dr. Pierces Laboratory in Bridgeport, Conn., or to the Animal Hospital, Kalamazoo, Mich., or to Dr. G. W. Wilson, High River, Alta., or Mrs. Anna Kidd, Nordegg, Alta., or Mr. John W. Shorth, Westlock.

WE PROVE TOO MUCH.

A British law may make the German miners in the Ruhr area work half twelve hours per day, and are better fed, better clothed and better educated than the British miners. That does not sound like a very good reason why British industry should be made to pay Germany's debts by confiscating a large part of the capital of the country.

TALKING BACKWARD.

Some one has found a shell that is to be some hundreds of thousands of years older than any human relic previously discovered. Abiding interest in this remote Patagonian valley will naturally be confined to scientific circles. Still, the question may do more to stimulate speculation among laymen. It has been suggested that one reason why the present generation is so much inclined to radicalism is that it lacks historical perspective. The news from Buenos Aires, following upon that from Luxor, may help to correct that fault. If we remain ignorant of many of the great reasons that there were people on this earth a long, long time before we arrived, that may supply ballast for some of the restlessnesses who would revolutionize the world overnight. If the things of today are the products of centuries of evolution, then it is surely strange that we will be as well as go a bit short of pulling them to pieces on the strength of an amateur notion that we could arrange matters better with a lead pencil and a sheet of paper.

ELECTIONS NOT WANTED.

The Grain Growers' Guide wants something done to stop the Governor threatening to threaten resigners, it says that this threat freedom to lay off, to adverse vote, and some members would sympathize themselves rather than precipitate a dissolution and a general election. That may be delicate allusion to the fourteen Progressive members who switched at Ottawa when the vote came in the Senate. The Shakers after all said to Mr. Fisher that if the amending carried, the Government would construe the vote as a declaration of want of confidence. Just what is to be done to stop this "growing evil?" The Guide says it does not know. Then why does it? After all, the guide has suffered from the willful of Government to resign than from their anxiety to hang onto office when they should resign. And in these days of trades unionism, even Ministers of the Crown may be supposed to have a right to say under what conditions they will resign. As far as I can see, at any rate that has to do with the rule if we are to continue to have democratic government. The worst a Government can do is give the voters a chance to say what they want to do, the governing and on what lines. Just what is the greatest objection to that? Apparently the Guide has no more use for elections than those fourteen Progressive switchers.

ARBITRATION, BUT NOT DICTATION.

President Harding proposes that the United States become a party to the International Court set up by the League of Nations, but on conditions which would give the United States a pre-emptive right of arbitration in its disputes with the League and of responsibility for its acts. There is nothing inconsistent in the proposal. The international court is a tribunal for the settlement of disputes by common consent of the disputants. The League is proposed to be a super-Government, with both a political and administrative, as well as an affair of all nations. Any normal person is willing to submit the master to the courts when he has a dispute with his neighbor. But any normal person would refuse to admit that he is incompetent to manage his own affairs. He should be put under guard of the state, the state should be put under guard of such a case would be powerless to do more than protest, but the nation does not have to submit—and will not when the test comes. The United States has said frankly that it is not going to be governed by any outside authority. The states are not willing to submit their affairs to a court which would be as impervious to rain and pressure in composition.

THE REAL SUBJECT OF DEBATE.

The grand assembly of delegates at Angora are debating whether to sign the Lausanne treaty or refuse. It probably does not much matter which decision they come to. The Turks were never able to remember a scrap of paper which contained something that was fit to forget, and the Nationalist outfit is rather less dependable than the old regime. The Sultan at least had everything to lose and nothing to gain if he broke treaty with the Powers, while Kemal has everything to gain and nothing to lose if he can outwit them. Whether he and his associates have really been discussing behind the bazaar doors is whether they can get more out of the Allies by continuing to bluff or by signing and doing as they please afterward.

CONTROL OF CIVIC EXPENDITURE.

The Municipal Law Committee resolved to sanction the modest proposal that the city council of Edmonton should be empowered to borrow and spend up to $50,000 per year on capital account without the formality of asking the taxpayers if the sum will be spent on the additional purpose. The clause was stood over, on the suggestion of the Attorney General that the amount be limited to $150,000 per year. That of course would be less outrageous than the original proposal, but it would be precisely as original a violation of the principles of representative government as was committed before his property is mortgaged. There is no need, and it is not safe, to give council power to add any amount to the debenture debt of the city without sanction of the taxpayers. When council can show that money is wanted, then the tax rate may be increased and the additional burden which cannot be shovelled should have no power to borrow and spend for utility extension. The burgesses of the city are neither fools nor misers. They are quite capable of judging whether it is wise to borrow and add in order to meet a probable increase in the demand for service. When they have rejected balaustre in the past it was because they were not shown that the expenditure was necessary; and the events have justified their judgment. The theory that an "emergency" might arise when it is not necessary to make a loan is not a very convincing argument to support the proposal, and however, largely, the taxpayers have no recourse but to pay or be sold out. To defeat the spendthrift aldermen at the fall elections does not restore the squandered money to the pockets of the taxpayers. It is the duty of the council to raise and spend capital money without sanction of the property owners—but council can spend practically as much as it pleases on current account and bill the taxpayers for it.

That is neither a wise nor a very economical way to do things. The only right way is to let the voters decide on the amount of the annual budget. The committee would argue on that clause that the proposed amendments entirely.

By way of a change the committee might with propriety suggest that something would be introduced into the charter which would give the taxpayers a measure of control over current expenditure. In the civic or peasant council would be given the power to borrow and spend capital money without sanction of the property owners—but council can spend practically as much as it pleases on current account and bill the taxpayers for it.
